Salt Rheum

You may call it eczema, leprosy or salt rheum. But no matter what you call it, this skin disease which comes to various parts of the face, especially the nose, and which causes a watery matter, dry and cracked skin, is a very serious and painful condition. It is a very common skin disease, and is often the result of a poor diet, or of a general weakness of the system. It is a very serious and painful condition, and is often the result of a poor diet, or of a general weakness of the system.

The proprietor of the Huntville Herald has the sympathy of the readers in the loss of his office by fire on Tuesday night. The Herald is one of the most substantial, conservative and successful newspapers of the State. We are sorry the insurance was so small, but glad to know that the paper will be promptly issued.

The State Teachers' Association of Kansas City have requested the World's Fair commission of the State to be in getting up an educational display for the Louisiana Purchase Exposition.

Hon. Matt Hall, of Saline county, a splendid young Democrat, who made a fine record in the last Legislature, is a candidate for Congress. Matt Hall is a representative Missouri Democrat, and would make a magnificent Congressman.

CONGRESSMAN DR. ARMOUR has announced his candidacy for the United States Senate. Dr. Armour has enthusiastic friends all over Missouri and will have a strong following. He is honest, able and in every way well fitted for this most important position.

ARIZONA, which is drawing crowded houses in St. Louis, will shortly be brought to Mexico by Mr. Mayfield, the enterprising manager of the Opera House. Arizona is a most attractive entertainment and will be greeted with a large and appreciative audience.

THE next annual meeting of the Medical Association of Missouri will be held at St. Joseph on May 20, 21 and 22, 1902. Quite a number of Missouri physicians will attend this meeting. State associations should always be attended by members of the profession whenever possible.

THE Montgomery City (Mo.) Standard editorially says that the report that the people of Montgomery county had lost from one hundred and thirty to one hundred and fifty thousand dollars on options is without foundation. The Standard adds: "There isn't a man in town who lost more than $2,000 dealing in options and many have made and are still making money. It seems an inherent characteristic of some people to exaggerate rumors. They simply cannot stick to the truth. If a merchant here told the story traveling man the statement would be taken as a joke and the merchant would be laughed at."

THE EVILS OF SWEARING.

The evil of swearing very often grows out of carelessness. Young men, especially, need their attention called to the evil of taking the name of the Lord in vain. Boys and young men sometimes think it sounds big to swear. They get into this habit and unwittingly continue it through life. If young men knew how older men, even when they swear themselves, "swearings" to hear boys take the name of the Lord in vain, those growing up would refrain from the habit. The Mason Times-Democrat in reference to this evil of swearing has the following to say:

"Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain; for the Lord will not hold him guiltless that taketh His name in vain."
The habit of swearing is unbecoming and undignified as the evils of intemperance. Men swear because they are weak mentally and cannot control their temper or from habit, which is about as incurable as the brain disease. Swear, what do we swear for? Is it to emphasize our words, or is it because we do not feel that our importance is such that we can make our influence felt without taking the name of the Lord thy God in vain?

Did you ever impress any one with your greatness because you tried to strengthen your language with words of profanity at intervals? Have you not actually "cussed" when you were embarrassed and humiliated on account of the poor reception your language was received by others? You certainly have then why do you continue to indulge in words that befoul your mouth and lessen you in the eyes of your fellow beings?

Only one answer. Habit. Oh, that awful word habit. It has sheltered as much crime as any other word in the English language. Men drink because they are in the habit of drinking. No good can come from it, but great harm, yet they drink.
Men gamble because they are willing to chance their own property in order to get the property of some one else without manual labor. It's habit. Yet how many of us would like to cast our anchors in the gambler's den and take our chances?

Men swear because it develops their beastly nature. The lion in his cage will growl at his keeper when being fed, not because he doesn't like the food, but because it induces his animal nature born with him in the jungles of Africa. Some men like to be beasts. They like to growl and profane the name of the God of providence, who feeds them upon the most delicious viands of nature. They swear, not because they want to be heard, but because they are so weak they will not be heard.

We do not set the standard of morality and greatness by the number of oaths we utter, but by the good we do, and this often augmented by the language we use and the mild way we express ourselves.
Remember, dear friend, the Lord will not hold him guiltless that taketh His name in vain.

THE LEDGER has always taken the position that there is little, if any, good in swearing. The man who swears, when you hear him clucking that they are having hard luck and do not succeed in life you should ask them if they are industrious and economical. We would call the attention of our readers, especially young men, to the following pointed editorial from the St. Louis Republic:

"Joseph Orton Kerby, who was a fellow-leader with Andrew Carnegie in Pittsburgh years ago, says that young Carnegie 'stuck to business, worked hard and saved his money.' This is the 'secret' of the Carnegie success, as of every success in the practical world. There is no 'luck' possible that can take the place of perseverance, industry and frugality in laying the foundation of a fortune. The man who succeeds does so by virtue of qualities and habits which compel success. There is no denying a truth, that makes itself evident in the life-story of all who have surpassed the average man in achievement. The part of wisdom is to accept and act upon a truth so obvious."

The committee appointed by the Missouri Press Association to meet in St. Louis during the World's Fair year; also to invite a world's congress of editors to meet in the same city during the Exposition is composed of R. M. White, Editor, Mexico; E. W. Stephens, Herald, Columbia; H. E. Robinson, Republican, Maryville; W. D. Thomas, Sun, Fulton; W. B. Painter, Democrat, Carrollton. This committee will co-operate with the committee appointed by the city of St. Louis and by the World's Fair management. The intention is to have all of the editors of the world visit St. Louis during the World's Fair and be the guests of the Missouri Press Association, which will be prepared to act as host of all visiting newspaper men.

Fastest Train in the World.
PARIS, Feb. 4.—It is said that a new train which started to-day running between Paris and Calais for the convenience of passengers going to and coming from England will be the fastest in the world. ## A SPANISH COUNT CURED OF LA GRIPPE.

Count Segundo de Ordes was a Carlist exile. The signature of his uncle, Louis de Ordes, is found with that of John Quincy Adams ending Florida to the United States in a treaty with Spain. The Count is forty-six years of age, an exile from Ordes, situated in the northern part of Spain, and has been exiled since 1870. He is wealthy, and has traveled and studied the customs, habits and languages of twenty-five different nations.
In a recent letter to the Peruna Medicine Co., of Columbus, Ohio, the Count gives his endorsement to their great cathartic remedy, Peruna, in the following words:
The Canfield, Atlantic City, N. J.
The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, Ohio:
Gentlemen:—Last winter my secretary had a severe attack of the grippe which was cured effectively by the use of four bottles of Peruna, so when I contracted the same unpleasant sickness last fall I at once sent for a bottle. It truly worked wonders, and removed the sickness and sore feeling I had within a few days. I would not be without it now for any money, and when I go away I carry Peruna as a valuable requisite to my traveling outfit."—JULIAN SEGUNDO, CONDE DE OVIDES.

ON MONTEZUMA'S GROUND.

Miss Anne Hinde Visits Scenes Frequented by the Famous Mexican—Art in the Republic

The following letter was written by Miss Anne Hinde to her mother in this city:
Mexico City, St. Carlos Hotel, January 24, 1902.—My Dear Mother:
We still follow the tracks of Cortez, and have almost "conquered the city." Mrs. Rose, my companion, has even had the experience of passing a "Noche triste," but I am happy to say I have escaped that. We went again yesterday to the Cathedral and looked upon the magnificent canopy that covers the head of Hidalgo. This head, you remember, hung first in the corner of the old prison of Guanajuato (which I see every day) then it was brought here and buried.
The Cathedral stands on the very spot where the old Aztec temple of Teocalli stood. Then we went to the Museum and saw, the very first thing, the tremendous old sacrificial stone that for hundreds of years lay upon the summit of this temple, and upon which so many thousands of human lives were sacrificed, pagan and Christian. It is carved with all kinds of hieroglyphs, and pictures, and has a deep round cavity in the center which I imagine has settled the blood of many a human heart. The body of the stone is covered with the carvings of the Aztecs. We saw the great pyramid of the sun, and around this the symbols of the twenty days of the Aztec month. I am going to bring home a leather pillow with the picture of one of these stones burned upon it. Then we saw the fragments of the tremendous idol of Huitzilopochtli, which originally stood before the great altar. This was the great tutelary deity, and war-god of the Aztecs.
Surrounding the Teocalli there was an immense wall of stone and lime eight feet high, ornamented on the outside by figures of serpents, raised in relief, which gave it the name of "the wall of the serpents."
Several of the heads of these gigantic animals are preserved in this Museum.
"The Sad Indian" is said to be one of the finest pieces of sculpture in the Republic. It certainly is fascinating, but anything but sad—a merrier expression was never seen on the face of "Old King Cole" himself, to whom this Indian bears a striking resemblance.
I shall not attempt to describe the Academy of Fine Arts; but the tourists are said to find such a large and complete collection in this far-off land. The contributions are by natives and foreigners—many by the very best artists of Europe. The subject which impressed me far more than any other was the horrible torture of the bravest of the Montezuma-Gutierrez. He it was who, when he heard his companion in torture, testifying his anguish by his groans, exclaimed: "And do you think then I am taking my pleasure in my lath?" But a groan did he utter. He confessed that "much gold had been thrown into the water," but as to where and how to find it, not one word could be wrung from him. This same subject is the pedestal of the city of Montezuma, which stands in the center of the driveway out to Chapultepec. Words fail me when I come to this Gibraltar of Mexico—the Palace of Chapultepec. Situated about two miles out of the city on a very high and rocky eminence, it seems that it would be impossible for a man to reach it, and yet it has been so persistently hovering near the zero point, is perhaps a phase which many young men would have been reluctant to accept. Not so with young Adams. He was profuse in his thanks to his employers and immediately set about his work in a manner which excited the admiration and friendship of his fellow teamsters. The well-grounded coachman of Mr. Adams, no longer attended by a hostler, but by the young man himself, adjusted itself to the new conditions with seemingly as much interest as their master.
The ease in which young Adams descended goes to show that his grit and adaptability to conditions had fair place in his mind among the successful business men of the day.

A Fireman's Close Call.
"I stuck my head through every joint and chock and every nerve was racked with pain," writes C. W. Bellamy, a locomotive fireman, of Burlington, Ia., "it was weak and pale, without any appetite and all run down. As I was about to give up, I got a bottle of Electric Bitters, and after taking it, I felt as well as ever did in my life. Weak, sickly, run down people, who are in need of strength and vigor from their use. Try them. Satisfaction guaranteed by J. F. Llewellyn. Price 50 cents."

James Criswell, who has been night clerk at the Merchants Hotel for the past couple of years, has resigned his position and is at present visiting relatives in his old home, Mexico. He is succeeded at the Merchants by Bert Leedson.—Moberly Democrat.

Funeral of Mrs. Jesse Fike.
Funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Jesse Fike were conducted from the late residence at 230 Locust Friday afternoon by Rev. J. J. Hicks.

McDonald Going to Sumner.
E. H. McDonald and family will move to Sumner, Mo., to reside in a few days. Mr. McDonald goes to take charge of a store at that place at the same time. We regret to see these good people leave Centralia.—Centralia Courier.

The Callaway county primary will be held on August 30.

UNIDENTIFIED VICTIMS.

Two Hundred and Sixty-Five Galveston Storm Victims Will Rest Together.

GALVESTON, Tex., Feb. 5.—The work of disinterring the dead bodies of unidentified storm victims in this city has been completed. In all, 265 bodies were removed from the streets and vaults in various portions of the city and given a proper burial. They have been placed in a plot just west of Lakeview Cemetery, and this will be fenced and a granite stone will be placed in the center with a fitting inscription thereon. The stone has been secured through the efforts of E. J. Byrne, of Austin, and was donated by Col. Sullivan, the lessee of the Granite Mountain quarry. It weighs 20 tons.
J. R. Christian, Assistant General Freight Agent of the Southern Pacific, has arranged for the stone to be transported to Galveston free of charge, and Mr. Ott, of this city, has agreed to assist in placing the stone, also without charge. The work of disinterring dead bodies of storm victims is still being continued outside of the city, but will be confined to a limit of within two miles of the city.
The fund sent here by the Governor for this purpose has proved more than ample to reimburse all the men in the city, and it is thought that it will also prove sufficient to finish the work contemplated by the Governor. When the work is completed the cemetery will be dedicated with appropriate ceremonies. The work has been carried out under the auspices of the Woman's Health Protective Association.

White and Red.
Pale blood—pale face—poor health; Scott's Emulsion—red blood—rosy face—good health; that's the order of events.

Our first lines give a condensed history of many cases, chiefly young girls at school. For some reason girls of that age are frequent sufferers from pale blood—a real blood starvation.

THE RACE

Does not depend on the start but on the finish. It's staying power which carries many a runner to victory. It's like that in the race for business success with a burst of speed which seems to assure victory. Presently he begins to falter. At last he falls and fails. The cause? Generally "stomach trouble." No man is stronger than his stomach. Business is a struggle for the nourishment from the stomach. If the stomach is weak, the body is weak, and the mind is weak.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It strengthens the stomach and so strengthens the whole body which depends on the stomach for the nourishment from which strength is made.

There is no alcohol in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and it is entirely free from opium, cocaine and all other narcotics. Accept no substitute for the "Discovery." There is no medicine "just as good" for diseases of the stomach and other organs.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has been prescribed by the highest medical authorities. It is a wonderful cure for all diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It strengthens the stomach and so strengthens the whole body which depends on the stomach for the nourishment from which strength is made.

BANKER TURNS TEAMSTER.
Son of Defuncting Fulton Cashier is Haunting Said at So Much Per Day—Supports Family.

From the Sedalia Sentinel.
Two weeks ago Phillip Adams, one of the most widely known financiers in Missouri and at one time a large property owner in Kansas City, disappeared from his home town, Fulton, Mo., leaving the books of the Commercial Bank, of which he was organizer and cashier, in such a tangled condition that the doors of the institution had to be closed and a receiver appointed. His sudden exodus left his family without a dollar of ready money to meet the necessary running expenses of a home and his youngest son, Stanley, was hurried to the foot of the pyramid and prepared for a carnival repast by the savages below. We next saw the equally as wonderful callender-stone, or "Stone of the Sun," which has in the center the hideous symbol of the sun-god, and around this the symbols of the twenty days of the Aztec month. I am going to bring home a leather pillow with the picture of one of these stones burned upon it.
